VOL. XII.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1881.

NO. 19.

A Gamy Country.
Salt Lake Tribune.
Last evening a group of men were discussing the quantities of game in Utah when a Colorado man remarked: "Why, in Colorado the trout are so thick in the streams that you have to beat the water with a brush to make room for a horse to drink."
"Oh," said a Salt Lake hunter, "that is only fish. A couple of weeks ago I went up in the mountains to locate some claims and had to clear the antelope away before I could drive a stake down."

Set Back 40 Years.
"I was troubled for many years with kidney complaint, gravel, etc.; my blood became too thick; I was dull and inactive, could hardly crawl about; was an old, worn-out man all over; could get nothing to help me until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, though I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age, as it has done for me."
Bogus Certificates.
It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of vegetable roots, barks, etc., and pushed up by long, bogus certificates, of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known, valuable remedies, that furnish its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines—its change. (See another column.)

"Hop Bitters" is delicious with lemonade, iced tea, or milk. Have it ready for the welcome or parting guest. Sold by all Grocers, Wine Merchants and Druggists. Trade supplied by Richards & Harrison, Agents for the Pacific Coast, San Francisco.

Henry Ward Beecher paid this tender tribute to Guiteau. He said: "I have a right to speak of Guiteau. He once was of us, or rather, among us, but not of us. He sat in our classes; he united with the throng in our sanctuary. I cannot dismiss him without a sense of sorrow and mourning."

POLICE COURT.

Preliminary Examination of Parties Charged with Killing S. C. Scoville.

The GAZETTE's report of the trial begins to-day at the cross-examination of Thomas Cogan.

In answer to Kittrell—Known Moore for ten years; was not in the habit of carrying a pistol in the east, but did it sometimes. Knew for some time before of the meeting called for the twenty-seventh. Knew of the trouble between the two factions; was friendly to Moore; on the twenty-sixth Moore asked me to have the men come to the office from the ditch at noon and put out anyone who attempted to enter; did not set the men to work on the ditch merely as a pretext. Resumed work on the ditch two or three days afterward using the same men; know of several previous cases where men came to Reno to be paid; brought the four men for the joint purpose of being paid and to dig the ditch. I did not draw my pistol until just before passing out of the door "I." Had gone in to assist Fowler; helped Fowler with McMechan after I got there; was no understanding as to that the day before the meeting (witness very positive). Aided in obedience to Fowler's call on the spot. Did not know who fired the first shot; it was not McMechan, and it was certainly not I, for I fired no shot at all; did not see Scoville in the middle room; don't remember the appearance of either McMechan's or Wheeler's pistol. I never had a dark-colored pistol.

Think I said "Come in, boys," after Fowler called. Don't remember that Moore urged anyone to "go in and do their duty." He did not give me any orders about it at that time.

In answer to Dickinson—Went out with Parker because his team could go faster than my single horse. Went with intention of quieting any disturbance that might arise among the men.

In answer to Lindsay—Names of the men who dug ditch were: S. J. Murphy, John Logan, Pat Shay, Con Leary, Mike Maloney and Mike Carr. Murphy was steward at Camp 6. Rest were laborers.

In answer to General Clarke—I was directed to be at the office with the men at twelve. From this gathered that we would get there and be in possession of the office—When I saw the Wheeler party in possession my connection with the affair ended.

In answer to Mr. Rankin—McMechan did not resist much when I pushed him, and I did not use much force.

Court adjourned until 3 p. m.

At 3 p. m. the examination was proceeded with.

H. J. McMurray sworn—Reside in San Francisco. Was a paid up stockholder in the N. & O. R. R. Co. to the extent of fifty shares on September 27th. Went into the office at 1 p. m. of that day. Saw Wheeler, McMechan, Coffin and Sunderland. Fowler went in and said: "Gentlemen, this is a stockholder's meeting and all not stockholders will please leave." Then Fowler went in and took hold of McMechan. Saw Coffin and Wheeler draw their pistols. Coffin had his pistol out first and pointed it at Fowler. I came out, and Cogan passed me, going in. Think shots were fired before I left the room. I went on out of the building. Saw Woods and Bragg outside. Saw Fowler, Moore, Scoville and Balch come out. Did not see a pistol in Fowler's hands.

Cross-examined by Kittrell—Knew that an injunction had been served on the Wheeler party. I was on the Moore side. Met Moore and Fowler at Judge Webster's on the night of the 26th. Some one said that those who were not stockholders had no right to enter the coming meeting. Next day at about 1 p. m. we went in a body to the office. It was understood that Fowler should preside and Scoville act as Secretary. Heard that the railroad men were there to get their pay. I was not armed. Think McMechan raised from his seat voluntarily and drew his pistol. Saw Scoville advance upon Coffin. Did not see that he had a pistol. Balch was within a few feet of Wheeler's pistol. Didn't see who fired. On the night of the 26th we agreed that we had the right to keep anyone not stockholders out of the meeting, and the general understanding was that we should do it. Didn't know that the injunction had been modified.

Answer to Webster—Nothing was ever said by us about arming ourselves. Capt. C. A. Bragg called—Owned 10 shares of N. & O. stock prior to September 27th. Sat on the right of the door of the inner office after entering it. Spoke to Wheeler. Some one asked the whereabouts of Moore and Fowler. Coffin said (looking through the window): "There they come." Fowler came in and said: "Gentlemen, this is a stockholders' meeting. Those not stockholders will please leave." Wheeler said something to the effect that he was President. Fowler went out and said: "They are organizing the meeting; come in boys." Fowler returned and took hold of McMechan. Cogan was near by. McMechan raised and Cogan got behind him. McMechan advanced toward the door "I," when Cogan and Fowler left him go. McMechan drew and fired. Some men were in the south side of the room. I left then. Fowler had no pistol. Did not see one in Cogan's hands. Before I left the room there were three shots fired in quick succession. Going through the outer office I heard several more. When I got outside I saw Woods. He said: "What in God's name does this mean?" I answered: "It has taken me unawares." Fowler came out, his clothes dirty, saying: "I'm not shot." Scoville came out with his hand to his side, saying: "I'm hurt; I'm shot!" Moore was with me and said: "There's poor Balch; you attend to him and I'll go to Scoville." I went to Balch. McMechan came to the door and aimed it (I saw his foot and part of the leg) saying: "Get out of here you damned—o—b—s." I went with Balch in the wagon to the hotel. Cogan drove. We carried Balch up stairs and laid him on the bed. Did not anticipate trouble, but expected the Wheeler party to be there and that there would be high words. Knew of the injunction but not of the modifying order.

Cross-examined by Kittrell—I thought that Fowler's call was for the purpose of rallying some force to his assistance. (Witness gave it as his opinion that Fowler committed the first act of disturbance by taking hold of McMechan) McMechan stood near the desk and his first shot was fired to the right of the door "I." I saw Wheeler draw his pistol and pressed it as if to fire, did not see Coffin at all after the row commenced.

By Deal—Was not armed that day; I am positive that the first shot was fired by McMechan.

By Dickinson—I cannot be positive that Cogan had no pistol when he entered, but am positive that he did not when he took hold of McMechan.

At 5 p. m. adjourned until 9 a. m. to-day.

[ELEVENTH DAY.]

James H. Moore sworn—Am brother of Thomas Moore. Came from Chicago with Thomas Cogan July 23d. One afternoon we were riding on the platform and he took his revolver out to shoot at telegraph poles. It was nickel-plated and short handled. I told him there was a fide for firing a pistol on the train and he did not shoot.

Thomas Moore recalled—Did not hear Fowler say: "Come on men and do your duty." I brought the men down to preserve order if any one tried to come in. It was to make any one who came in show their credentials. It never occurred to me to have the Sheriff there.

Mr. Fowler recalled—Said he positively did not say: "Come in men and do your duty."

Frank Wygate sworn—Saw Cogan immediately after the shooting. He came out in an undecided sort of way. I called out, "Great God! Cogan has done a great deal of shooting!" I thought he had done it all. He held out his pistol to some one. It was a silver-plated pistol. Do not know who he showed it to. Have never smoked opium in my life.

Murphy recalled—The only thing Cogan said he wanted us for was to dig a ditch. We did not expect any trouble; no one said "come in boys and do your duty." I saw McMechan with a gun and a fire blazing out of it and I run.

Pat Shea was sworn, and furnished a little amusement for the Court—Cogan asked me if I would do what he wanted, I told him I would do what it was my duty to do. I did not hear anyone say "come in boys and do your duty." Did not understand Cogan to want us to put any of Wheeler's party out if they came in. Some one said the meeting was called to order, and I started to go in. I thought we were all going in to get our pay, heard shots and run. (laughter). If there had been no shooting I would have attended the meeting. Was not a stockholder, but guess I was as much of a Director as the others; I had worked a few days on the grade. (great laughter).

John Logan sworn—Cogan told me to hitch up and bring the men to Reno. When I got back to Camp I was stupid drunk. I woke up next morning at the Camp. There was two bottles of whiskey in the wagon and I drank a good deal of it. Do not remember of getting out of the wagon, think I slept for a mile before we got to Camp. Do not know that I said "I had had fight of my own, but that was the first time I was ever hired to fight." I could not find any whiskey in the morning so I drank some China Gin. Court then adjourned to take the Nitro in Churchhill.

It is reported that considerable beds of what is supposed to be saltpetre have been found in some small lakes in the neighborhood of Ragtown, seven miles below Fort Churchill. For many years these lakes have been famous for their deposits of soda, which mineral is there dug out in great purity, large cakes of it resembling ice. At one time some parties bored a well in the solid rock near one of these lakes to the depth of about 150 feet in search of petroleum. After boring to this depth at considerable expense, it was thought that it would be well to make a critical examination of the indications. What first induced the Company to commence boring was a seum of an oily substance found floating on the water at the edge of the lake. A new examination was made and it was found that the oily matter was merely a substance exuded by a sort of worm or grub living in the waters of the lake.

"Delta Pl."

The above very expressive quotation is the name applied to a secret society organized by and comprised of the senior class of Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls. The exact purpose of the organization (unless it be to gather in a few dimes from the juveniles) we have been unable to ascertain, but we will patiently await any revelations that may be made. A fair was held last evening at the Seminary, under the auspices of the Delta Pl Society. The customary ice-cream and flower stands, grab bag and fish pond, were in order. Elegant oil paintings were raffled off at a sacrifice, and the fancy-work department was well stocked with fine embroidery, lace, etc., all of which were disposed of. The receipts of the evening ran very high, and the Society financially, is in a prosperous condition. The GAZETTE returns thanks, for complimentary passes.

OUR SISTER'S DILEMMA.

The Trouble Between Mountain and Valley Over the Delta Question.

DUTCH FLAT, October 18.

EDITOR GAZETTE: But little else is talked of here except the action of the Nevada county miners in disregarding the injunction and opening up the mines. The ground they take is that the decision of the Supreme Court, saying that Judge Keyser is disqualified from sitting in the case, annuls his injunction. They are making ample preparations for a big winter's work, and all signs show that the law will be broken as soon as the water comes. From all I can learn this action is not so much desired by the rich men as by the poor; by the owners as by the laborers. Many of them have lain idle for two seasons now and they must have work or abandon their homes, and go elsewhere. The latter they dislike very much to do. A large number of them have lived here all their lives, and not a few were born here. Here they have their homes. They have planted orchards and vineyards and trained vines over the front porch. They have seen their sons and daughters fall in love and get married. They have learned the trade of mining and the industries connected with it, and know no others. They would have to labor for a livelihood in competition with men already skilled in other pursuits if they abandon their homes and go away. Rather than do this, I am told, they will fight. It may be they will disorganize the county of Nevada and have no Sheriff to serve papers and processes. If it came to a vote the miners would be in a majority, and they would doubtless do anything that was necessary to keep their mines open. If they are closed, the counties of Placer, Nevada, Plumas and Sierra would not be worth ten cents on the dollar. Neither will the east half of El Dorado and Butte counties. Thus far the only mines in this neighborhood that have been enjoined are those of Gold Run. Their case is set for trial the first of November, and it will be made a test case. All the Companies will stand in together on the expense. It is regarded as the most favorable case the miners can make to make a test on. The debris is very heavy, as it comes right out of the blue lead, and they can prove that it is not carried five miles away from home. They can show that it is an actual benefit to the farmers for it covers up the lighter deposits in the canyons and prevents its being washed down by the high water. Our citizens here depreciate any unlawful methods and are disposed to put up with the laws always, but the truth is they have not suffered as the miners on the ridge above Nevada have. The Gold Run Company was not stopped until after the water gave out, and the case will probably be decided before the rain comes again. The mines at You Bet and Red Dog have not been interfered with, and ours here will run right along we hope. If we suffer as our neighbors have, we might feel differently. Yours, PLACER.

Forgot His License.

In the Police Court recently the lawyers have been with considerable asperity discussing one of those points in legal etiquette which is so entertaining to the average spectator. The matter had, as usual, been satisfactorily explained, and General Kittrell, after brushing away the cob-webs of disagreement which had been spun from mouth to mouth, dropped into poetry in a friendly way. Said he:

"Let dogs delight
To bark and bite,
For his nature's law,
But little, little Webster, your
Your little, little hands
Were never made—"

"How, how?" said the Court. "Oh! dear me!" gasped the humorous spectator, "that certainly is the worst," and the three Chinese spectators turned black in the face with suppressed cachinnation. The General had neglected to get out a poetic license.

Beaver in Eastern Nevada.

Considerable number of beavers are found on the Humboldt and its tributaries. They are fat fellows, weighing from 25 to 40 pounds, and their fur is very nice. It is not likely that enough could be caught to pay for going into it for a business. On the South Humboldt there is one place near Mr. Shepherd's ranch, where they built a dam last winter and turned the water out on his meadow, irrigating it very nicely. They also built a rock dam near by. They trouble Mr. Crane and other farmers considerably. It would be all right if they would call at the office and get specifications as to the right place to put the dams, but they do not do that. They are very shy, and are rarely seen.

Bourbon Hypocrite in Missouri.
Memphis Avalanche.
The Bourbon orators talk eloquently about the "fair" ballot, and the Bourbon newspapers print glowing editorials about the same thing. But the simple fact that they ruled out a large majority of the persons selected by the Ben King party on the election boards, proves that the Bourbon stamp oratory and the Bourbon editorial fine writing about a Bourbon "fair ballot," are all false pretences intended to deceive the people of the United States outside of Mississippi. Nobody within the boundaries of the State is deceived by the orator's eloquence or the editor's gush. If the Bourbons entertained a remote idea of a fair count they would have given their opponents one man on each election board, as the law provides.

Rescued From Death
William J. Connelley, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1891 I was taken with a severe cold, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and sleep, and was confined to my bed. In 1892 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I had died. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping every one afflicted with Disordered Lungs will take DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness.
